

Start here

Open this first: Friday Feeling — you, headlining.

This is you, Hicham — headlining. Open "Friday Feeling — you, headlining" first and play it loud: the full song, and you're fronting a real stage. Out of the suit, in a cream-and-gold satin bomber, lights up, confetti coming down, a crowd of thousands singing it back at you. It opens on your "Five o'clock!" and a wide of the whole arena, then it follows the song — your close-up through the verses and choruses, the crowd and the lights between, you at the edge of the stage waving them on at the build-ups, fire cannons in the final chorus, and it ends on you singing "Friday feeling — I'm free!" The song, its cover, and the lyrics are all still there beside it. One honest note: if you post it anywhere public, the platform will tag it as AI-assisted, since it shows you singing a vocal you didn't record live — totally fine to play it yourself or send to friends. This is the one I wanted to hand you. Happy Friday — you earned the stage.

What is in the kit

1 Friday Feeling

Audio · MP3 · `friday-feeling-final.mp3`

Your Friday song — 2:16, built to hit the second you walk out. Play it loud.

2 Friday Feeling — cover

Image · PNG · `friday-feeling-sleeve-2.png`

The single sleeve — 70s screen-print, the office doors flung open.

3 Friday Feeling — you, headlining (open this first)

Film · MP4 · `friday-feeling-headliner-v6.mp4`

Play this loud and full-screen. The full 2:16 — you fronting the stage, lights up, the crowd with you, confetti coming down. This is you as the headliner.

Filed under Extras

4 Friday Feeling — lyrics

Document · PDF · `friday-feeling-lyrics.pdf`

Every word, so you can sing along by next Friday.

Its address on the internet

| <https://kaldune.ai/publish/friday-feeling>

If anything doesn't look right, come back to the studio and tell Laura what you see. A screenshot helps. She'll walk you through it, step by step.