

Start here

Your Harira counter card is done — a real printed recipe card, English and Spanish side by side, built to prop against the backsplash and cook from one-handed.

It's a seven-page print-ready PDF. The cover carries the finished bowl; the shopping list is grouped by store section with every quantity in both grams and cups; the method runs step by step with English on the left and Spanish on the right, timed, with the traditional tadouira thickener, the beaten-egg alternate, and a "how to know it's right" cue so you can feel when the silk is set. The last two pages are where to buy — ten real Grapevine/Southlake-area stores, each checked against its own current page, with what to grab at each and an honest heads-up on the three where hours were fuzzy (call-ahead numbers are printed right on the card).

Print it at home on letter paper and you're cooking. Cook it slowly — the flavor is in the patience.

What is in the kit

1 Harira — bilingual counter card (print-ready PDF) (open this first)

card/harira-card.pdf

Opens in any PDF reader (Preview, Acrobat, or a browser).

Open this first. Print it, prop it against the backplash, and cook. Seven pages: the recipe and shopping list, the method English and Spanish side by side, and where to buy every ingredient around Grapevine/Southlake.