Open this first: Launch film — English.

That's set, Hicham — the English tile now opens on Laura: her face at the desk, eyes on the lens, lips softly closed, no caption. The film itself is untouched — it's the exact cut you blessed, just wearing her face on the tile the way the other four already do. All five films, their caption files, and the welcome still are back on your workbench together. If anything else wants to move, say the word.

If anything doesn't look right, come back to the studio and tell Laura what you see. A screenshot helps. She'll walk you through it, step by step.
