Open this first: Kitty's Friday.

Your song for Kitty is ready. "Kitty's Friday" is a cheeky, warm love song she'll grin at — she cleared her whole Friday because she knows you're needy and you want it all, and the hook lands it: "I'm needy, I'm needy, and baby I own it." All three of your details are woven in — "Kitty Perfect," "first time, every time," and your happy smugness about taking advantage of her perfectionism. Play it first, then send it with the cover, a clean single sleeve that tells the joke without a word. Everything's ready to forward straight to her.
